NATIONS UNIES

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO THE NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE
 (NMUN•NY)

New York, 19 - 23 March 2017 and 9 - 13 April 2017

It is a pleasure to greet the National Model United Nations attendees.

Today, people around the world are inter-connected. Conflict, environmental destruction, poverty and injustice affect everyone. We have to work in common cause for our common humanity. All parents want a better life for their children. All religions value peace. All communities thrive when they value diversity.

At Model UN, you broaden your horizons. By learning and networking, you can be part of the UN’s efforts to establish peace, secure human rights and enable all people to live in dignity.

I have called for a surge in diplomacy for peace – and for a new emphasis on preventing conflicts. We are also working to improve living conditions everywhere through the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

In all these areas, we can benefit from your enthusiasm and your ideas. I hope you follow our social media accounts and stay fully engaged in your communities.

The United Nations stands with you as you stand up for our shared values. Together, let us create a more compassionate, inclusive and peaceful world.

António Guterres

Volunteer with NMUN

Join our volunteer staff - committed to the ideals of the United Nations!

We seek enthusiastic NMUN alumni from around the globe who are willing to help organize the world's largest university-level simulation of the United Nations. Many of our volunteer staff members are current undergraduate or graduate students.

We need volunteers with expertise in research, committee management, and conference organization.

You will build skills in facilitation of debate, conflict resolution, and customer service while learning alongside delegates about global issues. You will also form lifelong friendships with other volunteers.

We offer in-depth training, provide hotel accommodations, and help pay for most travel expenses.

2017 NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS • NEW YORK

THE 2017 NATIONAL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

SPONSORED BY THE NATIONAL COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE ASSOCIATION

New York City, 19 - 23 March and 9 - 13 April

Dear Delegates, Faculty Advisors, Guests, and Friends,

Immediately upon taking up his duties as head of the United Nations, Secretary-General António Guterres issued an appeal for peace, asking that the international community "resolve to put peace first." In choosing to travel from locations across the globe to attend this conference, you join with more than 5,000 students and demonstrate that your hearts and minds are open to pursuing this priority. You also represent the voices of those on your delegations unable to attend due to recent U.S. travel restrictions. It is a privilege to welcome such an awe-inspiring group of people who are dedicated to the shared cause of peace to the 2017 National Model United Nations New York (NMUN•NY) Conference.

The theme selected for this year's conference is "Growing Together, Growing United." The central mission of this conference is one of learning. Each of you has dedicated many hours to preparing for this experience. During the conference you will further develop your critical thinking, research, writing, communication, and diplomacy skills. Our NMUN volunteer staff and Board of Directors look forward to supporting you in your growth as leaders.

Now more than ever we have the opportunity to reflect on history and to use its lessons to grow institutions such as the United Nations to meet the challenges of today. We find ourselves in an environment that is simultaneously interconnected through a globalized economy and advanced technology, yet fragmented by fear, insecurity, and division. The world looks very different now than at the inception of the United Nations, and the body must continue to grow and mature into an organization poised to reconcile those differences and face today's challenges for the good of humankind. In simulating the United Nations at NMUN•NY, the diversity of delegates contributes to a respectful, open, and informed dialogue that seeks to find diplomatic solutions to global problems. In doing so, you bring creativity and new energy to the United Nations and international relations, ensuring that the next generation of leaders is prepared to champion the United Nations as a living embodiment of hope for peace, progress, and a better world.

Sincerely,

Patrick Parsons

By early 2017, news items suggest that the U.S.-UN relationship is headed in a bumpy direction, with the new administration taking initial positions regarding the Middle East and climate change, among other matters, that seemed to be a challenge to the world organization. Join John Moore and Jerry Pubantz as they discuss this timely issue. They are authors of The New United Nations: International Organization in the Twenty-first Century (New York: Routledge, 2017), long-time NMUN faculty advisors, co-editors of the Encyclopedia of the United Nations, and authors of the award-winning To Create a New World: American Presidents and the United Nations.

NMUN•NY Video Contest

NMUN•NY delegations are invited to enter our video contest. To do so, simply capture the enthusiasm of our delegates and the many learning opportunities present at the conference on video. Then send it to us before the deadline. All winning entries are posted on our YouTube channel: youtube.com/user/nationalmodelun. Don't miss this opportunity to win a scholarship for your delegation to next year's New York conference.

For entry information visit nmun.org/nmun_ny.html.

Media: A Key International Stakeholder or Opposition Party?

The press is under attack around the world. Are Fox News, CBS, NBC, BBC, CNN and Al Jazeera reporting about the same world? Attend this panel if you're interested in the role media actually plays in today's international affairs. Experienced journalists will provide first-hand insights into their daily work at the UN and in the world. Debate the responsibilities and impact of today's newsmakers. Organized by Pamela Falk, CBS News UN Correspondent, and Robert Windrem, NBC News.

The Global Refugee Crisis: A Guide for Action

Imagine your home is no longer a safe place. You are in fear of losing your own and your family's livelihood. You want to find safe refuge but borders and passports, defining elements of the modern state, won't allow it. While human migration is anything but a new phenomenon, the images of the past few years have shocked the world's conscience. Millions of people are on the move, fleeing conflict, poverty, and persecution. At the same time, new walls and restrictions are put in place at borders where people previously crossed freely. Those who still make it frequently face hostility and intolerance in their new homes. How is the world dealing with the global refugee crisis? Why are we unable to guarantee the universal human right to seek asylum and find safe refuge? And what can YOU do to help overcome this? Join our experts to discuss what's ahead.

An Insider's Guide to the UN

Are you interested in better understanding and navigating the complex world of the United Nations? How does the UN work and not work, what are its strengths and weaknesses, who are the key players and how do things get done? These are the issues that will be discussed at this Panel. Join Linda Fasulo, who represents NPR News at the UN and is author of "An Insider's Guide to the UN," along with UN officials and experts, including Stéphane Dujarric, Spokesperson for the UN Secretary-General, in a candid discussion of these topics.

No Women, No Peace: Women at the Heart of Building Peace and Security

Women are agents of change. Their voices as experts, negotiators, and survivors dramatically increase the chances of achieving long-lasting, sustainable peace. But more than 16 years after the adoption of UN Security Council resolution 1325, women remain largely excluded from peace processes, accounting for only 10% of negotiators during peace agreements and 3% of UN peacekeepers. This exclusion perpetuates a systematic structure of discrimination and violence against them, hindering women's role in the rebuilding of their societies. Grassroots-level women's peace movements face challenges in getting their voices heard at the highest levels. How can the international community further the implementation of the women, peace, and security agenda? Join the debate with policy experts and civil society leaders!

GALAPAGOS 2018

Here we recognize those institutions for which participation is a school tradition. The long-term support of these schools reflects the hard work and dedication of faculty advisors, students, and administrators. It shows commitment to experiential learning opportunities like NMUN as well as the ideals embodied by the United Nations. We are greatly indebted to them for their leadership in continuing to enhance the conference. We look forward to welcoming more schools to this list in the future as new institutions start an NMUN tradition and returning schools continue to build a legacy. Data is self-reported on conference applications. Schools without () are located in the United States.

DELEGATES

While participating in the National Model UN conference, delegates have a responsibility to always maintain the highest level of professionalism and diplomacy. Conference staff, faculty advisors, fellow delegates, speakers, as well as non-NMUN hotel guests should be treated with the highest level of courtesy and respect, including on social media and in electronic communications. Professionalism in speech, actions, and appearance by delegates is a requirement of this conference, and necessary to its educational mission. It is expected that all delegates will respect the property of the United Nations, our host hotels, and any other facilities used by our conferences.

NMUN reserves the right to restrict future registration for any participant or school whose delegates or faculty advisors are not able to uphold their responsibility to the conference's code of conduct.

Delegates are expected to:

- Remain "in character" by consistently advocating the interests and representing the policies of the country assigned. To act "in character" also entails displaying respect for the opinions and ideas of fellow delegates, even if these opinions and ideas conflict with a given delegate's own country's priorities.
- Collaborate with fellow delegates when possible.
- Be courteous and professional at all times, including on social media and in electronic communications.
- Attend all committee sessions.
- Avoid the consumption of alcohol and other drugs in committee sessions. Any issues related to illicit drugs will be immediately directed to the attention of local authorities.

Delegates who disrupt committee sessions or create problems in the hotel may be barred from further participation in the conference.

Delegates are encouraged to enjoy the variety of activities available at our conference venues. Please bear in mind, however, that the purpose of being here is participation in NMUN, and failure to attend committee sessions may result in your withdrawal from the conference.

If you are going to drink, please drink responsibly. Excessive alcohol consumption should be avoided. The US legal drinking age is 21.

FACULTY ADVISORS

The role of faculty advisors, while at the conference, is to make all efforts to see that their students maintain a positive and professional approach to the conference. The educational quality of the conference is primarily dependent on the active and professional participation of all delegates. Faculty advisors can ensure this by monitoring the attendance of their students at committee meetings and helping them understand the skills of diplomacy as practiced at National Model United Nations. Faculty advisors must maintain the highest level of professionalism toward all conference participants and staff.

During the conference, faculty advisors are encouraged to advise students on specific questions such as a Member State's policy or issues of international law, but must not participate in the actual writing of resolutions or caucusing activities. NMUN allows students an opportunity to demonstrate their preparation and research skills. While faculty advisors are encouraged to quietly observe their students from the back of committee rooms, participation in the committee process must be left to the student delegates and the conference staff.

Faculty Advisors are expected to:

- Provide leadership to their delegates and to other delegations by serving as information resources when appropriate.
- Respond to questions and concerns without interfering with the work of the committees or the deliberations of delegates, whether in formal session or in caucus.
- Refrain from using academic credit and grading policies that force participation beyond that country's normal position in the UN.
- Remind their delegates of the educational purpose of the simulation. Awards should not be a delegation's main emphasis.
- Attend and participate in faculty advisors meetings.
- Offer suggestions and assistance to new faculty advisors.

HEAD DELEGATES

Head delegates provide leadership to their delegates and to other delegations by serving as information resources. They should attend and participate in head delegates meetings. Head delegates may be assigned to a committee or may serve solely in an advisory role. Head delegates assigned to a committee should observe the delegate code of conduct. Those not assigned to a particular committee should interact with delegates as would a faculty advisor.

DRESS CODE

All clothing must adhere to guidelines that portray professionalism and modesty. If a delegate's attire is deemed inappropriate by NMUN staff, the delegate will be asked to leave the session and return with appropriate attire.

- Standard delegate attire for the conference is business jacket, slacks/skirt, dress shirt (with tie for men) and dress shoes.
- Dress sweaters, shorts, ball caps, jeans, sneakers and sunglasses are considered too casual. Clothes that expose excessive bare skin or are otherwise revealing are inappropriate.
- It is not appropriate for delegates to display any national symbols such as flags, pins, crests, etc. on their person during sessions. UN symbols are acceptable.

Western business dress is preferred. Traditional dress is only permitted for international delegates in whose native countries "professional business dress" includes traditional cultural dress. NMUN will not tolerate any delegate's attempt to portray a "character" using traditional cultural attire as costume.

Faculty advisors/team leaders, guests, and volunteer staff serve as role models for delegates. Thus they are required to dress in western business attire while participating in scheduled conference sessions.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT / DISCRIMINATION

Our intention is to create an environment at National Model United Nations that supports our educational mission. We will not tolerate any instances of sexual harassment or discrimination based on race, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, age or disability.

If any delegate, faculty advisor, team leader, guest, or volunteer believes they have encountered sexual harassment or discrimination, which results in a hostile working environment or disparate treatment, they must bring it to the attention of the Secretary-General of the conference. In the event that this is not possible, they must bring it to the attention of the organizers. We will investigate the merits of the allegations, interviewing all parties involved.

Based on the findings, NMUN may:

- take no action
- issue a verbal reprimand
- separate the individual from the conference
- implement any other action deemed appropriate

See nmun.org/policies_codes.html for additional information, including safety tips and procedures for addressing violations.

Delegation Awards

National Model United Nations has established criteria for evaluating delegate performance. Each element is equally important to the overall awards determination process. All committees are weighted equally, and delegations are rated using a mathematical formula that accounts for the total number of committees in which each Member State is represented.

Areas of evaluation are:

- Remaining in character – defined as advocating your assigned country's position in a manner consistent with economic, social and geopolitical constraints.
- Participating in committee – evaluated during both formal sessions and caucusing.
- Proper use of the rules of procedure – NMUN uses the rules of procedure to facilitate effective workings of committee and debate.

For more details, see Awards Criteria: www.nmun.org/policies_codes.html

Based on 2015-16 Academic Year

2017 marks our 90th conference year, including nearly 50 years of sponsorship by the National Collegiate Conference Association (NCCA). NMUN traces its beginnings to a 1927 Model League of Nations. The simulation transitioned to a simulation first of the General Assembly and then expanded to include other organs. After rotating among mid-Atlantic colleges, it has been held annually in New York City since 1964. Throughout its history, the conference has offered an experience-based educational program that furthers the understanding of contemporary international problems. For more about our history, visit nmun.org/ncca.html.

Today, NMUN•NY is the world's largest intercollegiate Model UN simulation. The 2017 New York conference will bring together more than 5,000 delegates from six continents. This conference includes 21 committees as well as two additional Security Councils. NMUN offers a unique opportunity for students to better understand the inner workings of the United Nations while building skills in diplomacy and compromise. College and university students from all over the world work feverishly to propose resolutions addressing regional conflicts, peacekeeping, human rights, women and children, economic and social development, and the environment.

NMUN conferences are one of the most effective tools for teaching students the dynamics of multilateral diplomacy and international relations. They provide a diverse group of informed participants a forum in which to discuss global concerns in a context that closely parallels the real world.

NMUN will hold upcoming conferences in New York City; Washington, DC; Banff, Canada; and the Galápagos Islands, Ecuador. Since 2008, international simulations have been held in China, Ecuador, the Czech Republic, France, the Republic of Korea, Italy, and Japan. Thank you to our partner organizations for their vision and support of our mission. We look forward to future conference partnerships and welcome your inquiry into potential opportunities.

NCCA is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit, educational organization. We are also a Non-Governmental Organization associated with the United Nations Department of Public Information and a United Nations Academic Impact Member.

"In times of insecurity, when people feel uncertain about their future, when anxieties and fears are promoted and exploited by political populists, old-fashioned nationalists or religious fundamentalists, the success of the UN and the international community lies in our common commitment to our common values."

An Insider's Guide to the UN

Third Edition

Linda Fasulo

“No one knows the big picture and inner workings of the UN better than Linda Fasulo. This book is a must-read for anyone interested in international affairs.” —Tom Brokaw

“A sprightly, authoritative tour of the UN’s complex institutions, operations, history, personalities and most important issues. My students find it superbly equips them with a solid understanding of the UN.”
—John Hubbel Weiss, Cornell University

“Linda Fasulo’s book will become the indispensable source on the United Nations for everyone from students to diplomats. I keep it handy on my desk.” —Joseph S. Nye, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

“Fasulo brings to the fore the issues and controversies that surround today’s United Nations.” —Ambassador Joseph H. Melrose, Jr., National Model United Nations

Linda Fasulo is a longtime independent reporter for NPR (National Public Radio) and is based at the United Nations. She has worked as a correspondent for NBC News, MSNBC, and U.S. News & World Report.

GLOBAL CITIZEN

TO UNDERSTAND GLOBAL ISSUES, YOU MUST BECOME PART OF THEM.

The growing influence of new world powers, emerging states and non-state actors, socioeconomic transformation, and cross-border crises have reshaped the field of global affairs. Those pursuing careers in this area must study the issues and be deeply involved in them. The MS in Global Affairs, offered by the NYU School of Professional Studies Center for Global Affairs, positions you in the heart of the international community of NYC, providing you with the contextual perspectives you need to become an effective problem solver and innovator. Global field intensives and skills development in peacebuilding, mediation, and conflict assessment; exposure to renowned expert practitioners who advise governments, military, and private sector institutions on meeting today's security challenges; and projects that sharpen your predictive capacity and analysis of emerging threats, form the basis of an education that allows you to live what you learn—anticipating the next global challenge.

AMUN

American Model United Nations

Join more than 1400 representatives at American Model United Nations, one of the largest Model UN conferences in the United States. Our ever-evolving line-up of 17 simulations offers something for everyone: international peace and security, development, human rights and gender equality, and international law. This year, we are launching a new Historical Commission of Inquiry, with representatives exploring the history of Indonesian independence and the early years of the India-Pakistan conflict.
